

SUPPORT THE NEXT GENERATION OF MUSICAL CITIZENS!

THE NEW YORK YOUTH SYMPHONY is a premier cultural organization nationally recognized for its innovative educational programs for talented young musicians between the ages of 12 and 22. Founded in 1963 to showcase the metropolitan area's most gifted young orchestral musicians, its activities have grown significantly to include programs in chamber music, conducting, jazz, composition, musical theater songwriting, and commissioning, serving more than 260 students annually.

Through exceptional ensemble training, performance opportunities, and career guidance, the NYYS offers invaluable opportunities for teen- and college-age musicians to train for professional careers and develop critical life skills while making pivotal decisions about their future. Over 7,000 alumni have participated in NYYS programs, including many of the world's most notable musicians, conductors, and music directors. Young alumni can be found at leading conservatories and music schools, and launching careers with major orchestras, Broadway tours, and chamber ensembles. The NYYS remains committed to making the benefits of its programs accessible beyond its core programs to young musicians in underserved communities through ongoing partnerships with the Youth Orchestra of St. Luke's, Harmony Program, Harlem School of the Arts, and more.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, NYYS offered both online and in-person programming, and enrolled over 300 students from around the country. Highlights of the year included the orchestra's first professional recording; NYYS Jazz's recordings with Sarah Elizabeth Charles and Wycliffe Gordon; masterclasses with artists ranging from composers Reena Esmail and John Corigliano to Tom Kitt and Alex Lacamoire, plus musicians from the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra. All programs recorded and released their final performances virtually. The season culminated with performances at the Tribeca Film Festival and on CNN's July 4th Special with Billy Ray Cyrus.

As we look to the return of a fully in-person season in 2021/22, New York Youth Symphony is grateful to all of its supporters who have helped it navigate this international pandemic. We look forward to welcoming everyone together at the annual benefit and many performances throughout the year!

THE ANNUAL BENEFIT is the New York Youth Symphony's largest and most important fundraising event of the year. Funds raised support the NYYS's innovative educational programs, which educate and inspire young musicians through exceptional training and performance opportunities. As a valued member of the NYC business community, we hope you will consider contributing to this event either through a donation or through a tribute in the program. Your business will be spotlighted to over 5,000 members of the music community during the event on October 18th, which will be held in person, as well as livestreamed. Donations are tax-deductible.
